AMENDMENTS TO COUNTY CHARTER ARE RATIFIED

Legislature Puts Stamp Of Approval On Changes To Make Certain Officers Elective

The Daly City Record was notified, Wednesday of this week, by Assemblyman Harrison W. Call, that the Assembly had ratified the San Mateo County charter amendments. The senate had placed the stamp of approval on the changes the day before.

The key office of county executive and five other courthouse posts — engineer, coroner, tax collector, treasurer and recorder, now become elective jobs by this action by the Legislature.

Almost as soon as word had been received of the Assembly's ratification, perplexed officials at Redwood City admitted they were in a fog as to how to carry out the special election mandate of the original amendment petition.

May 27 was unofficially set as the deadline for the special election which must be called by the board of supervisors to choose the six officials, under provisions of section 7 of article 11 of the petition.

But District Attorney Ferrell and Assistant District Attorney Sullivan agreed they are stumped by the problem of how to get the candidates on the ballot.

Within the next day or so, the district attorney will ask Attorney General U. S. Webb for a ruling on whether the special election shall be held in the manner provided by the amendment petition. The provision allows for a 20-day lapse, after which the board must call the election "not

HEAD ON CRASH HURTS ONE AND KILLS ANOTHER

Crippled War Veteran Succumbs To Injuries—Both Artificial Legs Shattered By Force Of Impact

Felix A. Bettelheim, 44, a Menlo Park salesman and World War veteran crippled by two artificial legs, was fatally injured, early Saturday of last week, when his automobile crashed head on into another on the Bayshore highway at the Brisbane intersection. His skull was fractured. The impact of the crash was so great that both of the victim's wooden legs were shattered.

Jack Harrison, 21, of 139 Leland avenue, San Francisco, driver of the other car involved received a crushed right hand and a fracture of the nose.

Bettelheim was well known among veteran groups and was senior vice commander of the San Mateo-Santa Clara County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

American Legion District Meeting Favors Support Of Adequate Defense Program

The Twenty-sixth District, American Legion, at the meeting at San Bruno, Friday evening of last week, adopted a resolution urging Governor Merriam to see that the livestock pavilion gets the half million dollars pledged by the legislature last year.

The district also voted endorsement of Congressman John J. McGrath of San Mateo for his active work for an adequate army, navy and marine corps.

T. Louis Chess, general chairman of the Jubilesta recently held at the Belmont golf club, reported the affair was a success and would be held each year.

County Clerk William H. Augustus addressed the veterans and assured them of his support in all veteran matters.

Highway Near San Francisco Collapses After Landslide

Tying up traffic for hours, a landslide recently caused the collapse of a 50 foot section of the Bayshore highway, an arterial highway into San Francisco. Foundations under the highway gave way at Tunnel 5, one and one-half miles north of South San Francisco, leaving only two of the four lanes open to traffic. Dirt and rock crashed downhill, halting within five yards of railroad tracks which link San Francisco with points south. Later a second slide partially blocked the west side of the road.

PRESS IN FAVOR FESTIVAL OF YOUTH CREDIT TOKEN OF UNFETTERED SALE IS OFFICIALLY OPENED ADMINISTRATION

Belief Expressed That Better Results Are Obtained Without Interference

A vote of confidence in County Executive Ernest A. Rolison's administration and his personal ability to conduct his office as the direct representative of the Board of Supervisors was given, Monday night, by the San Mateo County Press Association.

Meeting in Burlingame, the publishers' group pledged its co-operation to Rolison, and expressed satisfaction with his co-operation extended the press association.

Usurpation of the executive's powers and duties, and outside interference with that administrative office were criticized by Harry Butler, general manager of the San Mateo Times, who moved that the association express its confidence in Mr. Rolison's ability to conduct the affairs of county government.

The motion was seconded by William E. Pitschke, publisher of the Daly City Record. George Morell, president of Peninsula Newspapers, Inc., declared himself in sympathy with Mr. Butler's views on the executive's office, and spoke for support of Rolison's administration. The vote on the motion was unanimous in favor.

The next meeting of the association was set for April 4 in South San Francisco, when the South San Francisco Enterprise will be host to the publishers.

SUSPECT PUT IN LIMBO CONFESSES TWO ROBBERIES

Arrested By Daly City Police For Robbing Gas Station Admits Brisbane Theft

Early Friday morning of last week, Daly City police arrested Robert W. Priest, 26 year old San Diego truck driver, on suspicion of robbery.

Priest was arrested near a gasoline station at the corner of School and Mission streets in Daly City when local police on patrol there saw him duck behind a pole to hide.

The officers discovered Priest's car in an alleyway nearby. In it they found a kit of burglar tools and two empty money bags bearing the name of a San Francisco bank.

Later the same day Hugh Rogers, owner of a service station at the in-

Friday afternoon of last week culminated a long waited for event when the "Festival of Youth" credit token sale was officially opened by the sale of the first ticket to Chief of Police James Reardon. Mary Ross-off was the lucky Girl Scout chosen to present the credit token to the smiling chief. A large group of Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Cubs were gathered in front of the City Hall, where the event took place.

To celebrate the twenty-sixth Girl Scout birthday, on March 12, the Scouts of Troop 2 and Troop 4 have planned a program which will include all other Girl Scout troops in Daly City. The girls of Troops 2 and 4 will play hostess to the girls of Troops 1, 3 and 5. Seats will be reserved in the main auditorium of the Nazarene Church for the girls of each troop.

Friends and relatives of the Daly City Girl Scouts are invited to attend this Girl Scout birthday celebration. The program, which will begin at 7:45 p. m., will include songs by girls of the five troops; several talks by well known speakers; and a tableau, by the girls of Troop 2, entitled "The Girl of Today and the Woman of Tomorrow."

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR CITY

(By MAYOR SELMI)

America's outstanding landmarks of progress in the nineteenth century were made in the pioneering of the western frontier and industrial development. America's greatest progress in the twentieth century is now being and will continue to be made in the fields of social welfare.

I am happy to announce that Daly City is actively participating in this great national trend of social progress. I refer specifically to the Daly City Recreational Project which was inaugurated here December 27, 1937. This program is fivefold and more in its benefits:

- (1) It provides supervised play for children, thus keeping them off the streets and enjoyably occupied.
- (2) It reduces child delinquency.
- (3) It offers young people and adults recreational and social facilities of genuine merit.
- (4) It employs a staff of 25 local men and women with an average aggregate payrole of nearly $1200 per month.
- (5) In short, I say, the Daly City Recreational Project does develop character, build individual and community morale, make the lives of local citizens more happy and of greater value to themselves and their neighbors.

On December 16 of last year our city council made application to the federal government for a recreational project here. That application was granted December 27.

Immediately a staff set to work on organization and initial recreational programs. Already we are proud to announce that supervised play for children (out of school hours) is offered on the grounds of our five public schools, parochial school, Crocker Playground, Vista Grand Park and Citrus Park. The auditorium at the city hall is open for social activities.

Special features for young people and adults will be introduced in the immediate future—soft ball leagues, tennis, baseball, a wide variety of handicrafts and dramatics.

As mayor it gives me great pleasure to declare "Daly City is not only growing in size and population, but it, along with other forward looking communities, is pioneering in fields of social welfare."

The Daly City Recreational Project was established here by a majority vote of the city council. It is only one phase of the far flung "program for progress" proposed by Councilmen Selmi, Sundermann and Twisten.

Women Organize To Fete Mrs. Roosevelt

A large representation of women from San Mateo, Alameda and Marin counties are organizing to take part in a "non-partisan, non-political" testimonial to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, when she speaks on the subject, "Peace," in the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco, Monday evening of next week.

CHIEF DIGS DOWN AND UP

ENLIST IN NEW SAFETY GROUP OF COMMISSION

Nearly fifty outstanding civic leaders have accepted membership on the newly organized county Traffic Safety Council. This group will augment the program of the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission. Each member will serve on one of five committees. Each committee is headed by a member of the commission.

The committees are designated as Accident Facts, Enforcement, Engineering, Safety Education, and Traffic Regulations. The work will be carried on along lines that have been definitely successful in other communities in cutting down traffic accidents.

Membership on the Council is an opportunity for public service that is a challenge to every one connected with it. Public spirited citizens can do much to help the program get under way.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

OBSERVANCE OF ANNUAL PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Opportunity To Gain Understanding Of Movement Throughout Entire State

Enthusiastic co-operation in the nineteenth annual observance of Public Schools Week, April 25, has been pledged by Mrs. B. C. Clark, president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, representing over 200,000 members in 1673 local associations.

"The public schools of California have as a staunch ally the California Congress of Parents and Teachers," said Mrs. Clark, and continued: "Since the people of California made education the first business of the state in 1920, by voting an amendment to the Constitution to make the first charge against the general fund of the state for education, the California Congress has given its support to hold this amendment and keep public schools out of politics."

"The times now demand that we do more than keep our schools out of politics. We must, through our schools, keep our country out of war. Education is the key to peace. It breaks down barriers, it is the means through which we derive our common interest, it gives us opportunity for common experience and hope for the understanding of our common problems."

"This observance of California Public Schools Week challenges public interest in the greatest of all democratic institutions, California's public schools."

"Let us keep faith with the trust of childhood and protect the immaturity of youth with school education for purposeful growth. It is the child's right and the adult's responsibility."

The American Legion, Native Sons, women's organizations, Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations generally join in the annual observance of the week.

DALY CITY WPA RECREATIONAL PROJECT GROWS

Display Of Various Activities To Be Viewed At City Hall Auditorium Next Week

One of the major seasonal events on the calendar of the Daly City WPA Recreational Projects will be staged in the City Auditorium, Daly City Hall, next Tuesday afternoon and evening, March 15.

Displays of handicraft, woodwork, needlecraft and game materials will be spread out for the pleasure of the community.

One of the interesting features of the display will be the valuable and extensive collection of quilts loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Lela Campbell. This includes most of the traditional patterns which have been handed down from colonial days, with one or two new designs added by the owner of this collection.

The use of crepe paper in costumes, favors and flowers and many other ways will also be demonstrated at this handicraft display.

Several leaders in recreation and art have expressed their intention of being present. Among those expected is Sigurd Nylander, state director of WPA Recreational Projects; Miss Evelyn Mayer, professor of art, San Francisco State College.

The staff of the Daly City Recreational Project will be there to explain the various activities and the use of various types of materials in handicraft and game programs.

The hall will be open to the public from 2 o'clock until 5 p. m. and for the evening hours will be open at 7 o'clock, the program to be presented from 8:15 to 9 o'clock, after which interested visitors may continue their inspection of this extensive display.

PUBLISHERS OF COUNTY PRESS FAVOR PUBLICITY

Endorse Plan Of County Executive For Wide Dissemination Of San Mateo County's Advantages

At its regular monthly meeting, held at Ada's Tavern in Burlingame, Monday evening of this week, the San Mateo County Press Association unanimously voted approval and co-operation with Executive Rolison's plan to publicize the county through the various chambers of commerce in connection with the 1939 Golden Gate International exposition.

Harry W. Butler of the San Mateo Times outlined the executive's plans for the expenditure of more than $6000 for use in publication of new and up to date county publicity literature.

Executive Rolison is arranging to have the Redwood City, San Mateo and Burlingame chambers of commerce work with his department in preparing new county publicity folders for distribution among thousands of prospective visitors to this county next year. This method, it was explained, will eliminate the necessity of hiring outside editors for the folder.

The three chambers, each employing a full time secretary, would submit literature for the various sections of the county. With the co-operation of the other chambers in the county, the secretaries would then work together toward including those sections not employing secretaries. A conference of the secretaries with Rolison will be held in Redwood City, Tuesday of next week, to get the plan underway.

PUBLICITY BOOK A COUNTY BOOST

San Mateo and Burlingame Chamber of Commerce secretaries met, Wednesday of this week, with County Executive E. A. Rolison in Redwood City to begin plans for a countywide publicity book.

The proposed book is to be published for distribution at the Golden Gate exposition, San Francisco hotels, and through the local chambers of commerce.

Cost of the proposed book is to be provided by a major proportion of $6500 still remaining in the 1937-38 county publicity fund, according to the county executive.

Tentative plans for the book, call for editorial contributions from San Mateo, Redwood City and Burlingame Chamber of Commerce secretaries and are to cover the entire county.

The proposed book would be so compiled as to avoid conflict with local publicity matter released by the chambers of commerce, and would present a picture of the entire county rather than any particular section.

Champ Gate Crasher Sees Hoop Tilts

Credited with being the league leading gate crasher of Pacific Coast Conference basketball games, Dmitrii Romanoff of Palo Alto, Calif., kept his record intact recently when he crashed the Stanford-California game at Berkeley. Romanoff said he did not consider the Berkeley game such a success because he had to climb through a back window after being forcibly ejected by California football linemen guarding the gate. To prove his presence, however, Romanoff had a cameraman take his picture next to P. J. Prinz, captain of the ushers (left), whose duty it was to hunt the gate crasher down and throw him out.

sooner than 20 days, not later than 60 days."

It had been hoped that the special election could be set to concur with the regular primary election late in August and that the supervisors would not be held to the strict letter of the amendment petition in fixing the date.

But this hope was blasted by District Attorney Ferrell, who held the board powerless to set the election beyond the 60-day limit unless the special election provision were knocked out in court.

There is a possibility, he said, that the special election provision could be declared void and in conflict with state law. If this were to happen, the six officials would then be elected in the regular manner.

After scanning the lawbooks this morning, Ferrell and Sullivan declared it their belief there is only one method by which the board can proceed to call the special election. This is under section 1188 of the political code.

It provides for the nomination of candidates without a primary election, by petition. These petitions would require the signatures of electors "equal to at least five per cent of the vote cast at the last general election" in order for the candidates to qualify.

County Clerk William H. Augustus stated that on November 3, 1936, 42,258 San Mateo County voters went to the polls. Five per cent of that number is 2113.

It was pointed out that if the six offices are filled for four-year terms at the special election, it may become necessary to repeat the special election each four years in May, with elections for the other county officials at the regular August and November elections.

If it is ruled that the special election is merely for the purpose of filling vacancies created by the amendments until the next regular election, then successful candidates must run again in August if they desire to hold office after January, 1939, it was pointed out.

The wording of the amendment petition fixes the terms of the executives and others first elected, at four years.

Although the election provision of the petition is a mandate, it may easily conflict with state law creating uniformity in the manner of electing county officials, the district attorney's office said.

This conflict may provide a legal avenue, through the courts, for junking the special election mandate in favor of following state law, and holding the primary and election of the additional election officers in August and November, the same as other county officials.

CRITICS DIVIDE ON MERITS OF NEW TYPE PLAY

Most Of Adverse Opinions,
However, Proven Incorrect
By Success Of Production

First of the plays written by the celebrated playwright Elmer Rice to be produced by the San Francisco Federal Theater will open at the Alcazar Theater next Monday night, March 14, when the curtain rolls up on "Judgment Day."

When "Judgment Day" was given its world premiere in New York critics divided overnight into two camps, pro and "non," the so-called "big twelve" decidedly "non." It seems that many of the plays the high hatted dozen had turned down were the ones that had in most instances turned out to be the season's successes, both artistically and financially. Such was the case with "Judgment Day." Mr. Rice is reported to have foreseen cash customers dissuaded from attending his play. It was his experience, it is said, that when critics in majority hamstring a play the public helped along with insulting jeers and painful absence from the box office. Imagine his astonishment, then, when approaching the theater the second night he saw men and women in queue before the ticket grating demanding seats for the next performance. That second night audience, usually the coldest known to the theater, stood and cheered when "Judgment Day" was done. "Judgment Day" is Mr. Rice's personal statement and contempt for dictatorship. The locale is laid in a southeastern European country. It is being directed by Wally Gilbert and will have an excellent cast.

"The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," which has been attracting capacity audience nightly, ends its engagement Sunday night.

JEFFERSON HIPTA ELECT OFFICERS

The outstanding business feature will be the election of officers for the new term. An instructive symposium by the faculty members will deal with the subject of universal peace, developed through the study and application of the cultural subjects, drama, literature and music.

FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Scott of Parkview avenue celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary with a family dinner, Sunday of this week.

Oregon Farmers Use Hops For Fertilizer As Prices Drop

Faced with selling their crops at prices much less than the cost of production, Oregon hop farmers are using tons of surplus hops to fertilize fields and orchards. This photo, taken at Wheatland, Ore., shows 576 bales of hops being scattered over a field. If the grower had received the year's top price, the hops would have brought him about $45,000, but instead he received only $6 a ton for fertilizer. A few years ago hop growers—who invested most of their reserve in bigger crops with the return of legal beer—are now threatened with bankruptcy.

A CLEAN COUNTY FOR WORLD FAIR

The Palo Alto-San Mateo Chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America meeting Tuesday evening of this week in Belmont, endorsed the "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign sponsored by the Redwood City council.

VISITORS DELAYED BY BAD WEATHER

Mr. and Mrs. Jensen of Lawndale had as their house guests, several days of last week, Mrs. Jensen's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitney, who flew here by airplane from their home in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney left their home at 4 a. m. Monday of last week, expecting to land at Mills Field that evening at 7 o'clock. Owing to bad weather conditions they were grounded at Winslow, Ariz., and from there they flew to Burbank, Calif., where they boarded a bus to Bakersfield, there boarding a United Air liner and arriving in Oakland on Wednesday noon.

During their stay they enjoyed visiting the bridges and many other points of interest in the bay region.

PARENTS WORK POST AND UNIT TO AID FESTIVAL BIRTHDAY PARTY

This week marks the start of a concerted effort of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies to sell the Festival of Youth to the people of Daly City. Their entering wedge is the much heralded Credit Token priced at ten cents. It carries with it ten votes for Queen of the Festival; 20 chances to win a merchandise prize and is redeemed at full value in trade at the festival!

The old Vista Grande School basement is being renovated and put in readiness for the event which is rapidly assuming the proportions of a junior world's fair. Parents are enthusiastically cooperating with boy and girl leaders in every way possible to make the Festival of Youth a real success. Mothers are making fancy work articles and other novelties and the fathers are helping their boys construct bird houses, shelves, and other craft articles; all of which will be offered for sale at the festival.

Boys and girls are helping in the advertising of the event and are making many articles to be sold and are also preparing exhibits and entertainment features.

Merchants and other firms are becoming interested as several have made arrangements to have displays at the festival.

An official program and merchants directory is to be issued for the occasion which will have much usable information in addition to the events of the festival.

A food sale will be held this Saturday, March 12, at 6230 Mission street by the members of Balboa Ward Relief Society. Mrs. Ethel Wood is the chairman.

The regular meeting will be held next Wednesday evening. A large group will attend the district meeting in South San Francisco this evening.

Small Caliber "Boys"

Some peculiar incidents are encountered by the observing person in his daily comings and goings.

Also, some peculiar, albeit reprehensible, individuals are met up with in his travels.

For instance, persons who tout themselves as "progressive" and "outstanding" residents of the community are observed in the act of "turning their backs" when they see someone who disagrees with their egotistical and self-centered "opinions" approaching on the street. The ignorance displayed by these efforts to "save their face" is, indeed, colossal. "Small potatoes," we say!

Any citizens who are not of large enough bore to grant to others the same privilege they arrogate to themselves to think as they please and express their convictions honestly, even in disagreement to the "chosen few," would seem to be of such small caliber that BB shot would have a hectic time passing through their barrels.

Wonder if these "little fellows" ever conceived the idea that it takes a very small amount of brains to be a boor.

Daly City is fortunate in that it "stables" only a few (though far too many) of these stunted minds.

Let us hope for better things to come in the future.

Healthy thinking and honest difference of opinion makes for progress in any community—but objection and obstruction and bigotry does not.

It is hard to conceive that the citizens of any community can be cajoled into the belief that individuals who stoop to such small and questionable tactics could possibly be intelligent enough to be trusted to act as public officials in any capacity!

The fellow who "pops up" only when there is something for him to "get" should be promptly "popped down."

There are a great number of "besetting sins," and the most reprehensible of these is ingratitude.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Captain Victor Hunt Harding, who has been my confidential secretary for the past five years, has accepted the position of executive Secretary of the Democratic National Congressional Committee in charge of all congressional campaigns in the United States. Captain Harding is retaining his residence in California and will continue his co-operation in the interests of the citizens of the Eighth Congressional District.

Trade Upturn—Because there appears to be signs of an early and substantial pick up in industrial activity the government's principal forecasters maintain their view that improvement both in industrial activity and trade is definitely due this spring. More than $400,000,000 in soil conservation cash is starting to farmers. A total of about $700,000,000 relief expenditures will flow out during the next four months, and at the same time the Housing Act, with liberal terms for prospective home builders, is beginning to show results.

Cordell Hull—The Secretary of State says: There is today no greater force in the world for the advancement of stable prosperity and peace than the reciprocal trade agreement program. In that connection the pending negotiations with the United Kingdom may play a vital role. The very magnitude of the international trade relations of our two countries is sufficient to suggest the possible influence which a satisfactory trade agreement between them might have upon commercial policies throughout the world. No nation, however large in territory and however richly endowed with natural resources, can attain a generally satisfactory standard of living and can maintain otherwise a high level of national welfare if it shuts itself off from the rest of the world and attempts to live a self imposed hermit life.

First AAA Loan—California raisin producers received the first loan under the new Agricultural Adjustment Act. The loan was for the amount of $2,500,000.

Corn Exports—During the current marketing season, export of corn has been the heaviest since 1928-29 with more than 17,000,000 bushels in four months. During a similar period, last year, when drought had laid waste the corn fields, imports were 24,000,000 bushels.

Wall Street Ousts Richard Whitney

Richard Whitney

Richard Whitney, prominent Wall street leader and who, as its president, piloted the Exchange through one of its most crucial periods after the 1929 crash, was suspended from membership in the New York Stock Exchange when his firm announced it was unable to meet its obligations. Whitney was president of the Exchange from 1930 to 1935.

War Preparedness—A number of Congressmen against, and naval authorities favoring, President Roosevelt's billion dollar navy expansion program, divided time at the fourth week of hearings on the measure before the House Naval Affairs Committee. A statement that the navy must be prepared to repel simultaneous attacks in both oceans, made by the President at a press conference, led to questioning concerning cost of building an Atlantic fleet comparable to that now in the Pacific. Naval air needs were set forth by Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, navy chief of aeronautics, and under questioning as to relative merits of planes and battleships, stated that both have indispensable values.

Worse Than War—Since its birth in 1776, our nation has engaged in six major wars. These wars, in total, extended over a period of fifteen years and the number of American soldiers killed either in action or from wounds during this time, was 244,357. 441,912 traffic deaths occurred in fifteen years of peace. Our soldiers died for a purpose, but what purpose can be applied for the killing of these hundreds of thousands on our highways? Truly, our traffic slaughter is worse than war! Something must be done.

Old Age Assistance—Over 1,580,000 persons, or 20 per cent of the estimated population aged 65 and over, are receiving an average of $19.46 under the "old age assistance" program. The percentage ranges from 7 per cent aged in New Hampshire to 60 per cent in Oklahoma. Lowest is Mississippi with $4.52, and the highest $39.61, in Colorado. In 1936 the amount paid out for assistance was $78,000,000 and rose last year to $181,000,000. Funds were supplemented by states to make a total of $383,000,000.

Loan Insurance For Residential Structures—A government insured loan of $2,500 or less, exclusive of financing charges, is available to a person to build a home, or a structure combining a dwelling and business plan, from any bank, or other approved lending institution. The citizen is helped by the Federal Housing Administration which encourages the lending by insuring the lender against loss in making the loan. The benefit of quick credit and of the terms and conditions to which the lender is limited to get government insurance of the loan, is given in this way to the borrower. These are called "FHA Class III Loans, $2,500 or less." Although a Class III loan may be used to build a home only, it may also be used to build any commercial structure, a portion of which is used for dwelling purposes. A wayside stand, used also for living quarters, or a garage above which are dwelling parties, are all included in these loans.

Unemployed Over 45—About one-third of the jobless are less than 25 years old and only slightly more than a quarter of the registrants are 45 or over. This was shown in the recent unemployment census.

New AAA Of 1938—In summarizing the new Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, President Roosevelt said: "By experience we have learned what must be done to assure to agriculture a fair share of an increasing national income, to provide consumers with abundant supplies of food and fiber, to stop waste of soil, and to reduce the gap between huge surpluses and disastrous shortages. The nation is now agreed that we must have greater reserves of food

P. T. A. ORGANIZES FATHERS FORUM

One of the important phases in community life, for the proper development of future citizens, is right direction of child welfare. With this in mind a group of men, parents of school students, formulated a Fathers Forum organization with this objective in mind.

Fathers of children attending schools in Daly City are invited to join this worthwhile movement for child welfare betterment.

For the present meetings will be held in the Pershing Grammar School.

The organization is intended to include all elementary schools in the city.

Sewing Circle To Have Whist Party

At the last meeting held by Court St. Mary 1155, Catholic Daughters, of America, Evelyn Weckerle, vice regent, presided due to the fact that Grand Regent Helen Rode is still confined to her home on account of injuries received in a recent automobile accident.

Plans were made for the next meeting to be held March 17, and, as this meeting will fall on St. Patrick's Day, refreshments and entertainment will be in keeping with the occasion. Katherine McDermott is in charge of the refreshments.

The sewing circle members are making plans for a large whist, to be held April 7 at Masonic Hall, with Mrs. Azilda Kohman as chairman. The quilt which was made by the sewing circle will be raffled at that time. The committee consists of many active workers in the organization.

NOTES ON OUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Beautifying Three Schools Of District

Superintendent R. L. Crane has again engaged in the worthwhile enterprise of beautifying the schools under his supervision. The three older schools in the district—General Pershing, Woodrow Wilson, and R. S. Thornton—have had a neutral shade of celotex installed in the classrooms as a pinning board for class bulletins, art work, and notices. The installation of these boards in the classrooms has delighted children and also teachers who are educating the children of today by the use of visual aids as well as making their activities closely associated with present day problems which contribute to a better understanding. Frequent illustrations which pertain to a subject may now be used in the classroom and present a neat and organized display. Thus, appreciating these modern classroom problems, Superintendent Crane has thus improved the three older buildings under his jurisdiction.

Conservation Exhibit And Program Held

A most interesting display on the various phases of conservation has been attracting a great deal of attention to the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. The display prepared by the children has been the culminating activity on the unit of conservation. Invitations were sent out to parents and friends asking them to view the exhibit and attend the conservation program held on Wednesday morning in the school yard.

The program opened with Mary Hill leading in the pledge to the flag. Roy Blake acted as chairman of the program by giving a talk on "Conservation" and introducing Sam Van Liew, who gave an enlightening talk on the "Life of Luther Burbank," whose birthday was celebrated March 7. Wilda Heath delivered a recitation on flowers and animals, which was followed by Doris Hahn reading the immortal and appro-

UTAH WELCOMES HUNGRY GULLS

"Don't turn cannibal, gulls—come to Utah for tidbits!" This was the official welcome recently extended to gulls in San Francisco Bay region when Utah residents read of cannibalism among the sea birds since the coast sardine fleet moved away without warning. Utah has a soft spot for gulls and even erected the only monument of its kind in the world. The shaft marks the time the birds saved crops of pioneers in 1847 from hordes of crickets. Photo shows the famed sea gull monument in Salt Lake City.

Special Meetings At Calvary Church

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN OF WILD LIFE IN NATION CAPITAL DEATH VALLEY

Another Experiment Tried In Greenbelt—This Time It's Religious Tolerance

(By Hart Goodrich)

Greenbelt had to start life as a churchless community—we can build houses and people them, but churches must spring from the concerted action of the people themselves.

This government Resettlement Project is quite different from most new towns. Generally, a town grows up around a population, undergoing a course of evolution to fit expanding and changing elements of this population. Historically, the church has usually been the first building erected in American communities. In this case, the town was built first and the population was then selected to fit it. (And believe me, it was a choice selection, since only a few hundred could be accommodated from the many thousands of worthy applicants.)

This has led to an interesting experiment at Greenbelt now being supervised by the Washington Federation of Churches, which may be significant in American religious history. It consists in the effort to build, from the bottom up and without any preconceived prejudices, a real community church in which the followers of a large number of Christian bodies can worship together and listen to the same preaching—Jat the same time retaining, if they wish, the particular views of their own denomination.

In the selected citizenry of Greenbelt there are persons of all sorts of religious views. However different over systems of church government are not so important as they once were. Take literal transcripts of nine sermons out of ten, and it will be difficult to tell, from content alone, what church they were preached in.

Perhaps no story of our times has had a wider circulation than an anecdote of the late Calvin Coolidge and his minister.

Mrs. Coolidge was indisposed one Sunday and the President went to church alone. When he returned, she asked him what the sermon was about.

"Sin," he is supposed to have replied laconically.

"But what did the minister say about it?"

"Opposed to it."

The popularity of the story is due in part to the fact that it contains

Twenty-six Distinct Species Of Mamalian Life Exist In This Vast Desert Area

Now that Death Valley has become a popular winter resort, the popular thought about the place is changing rapidly, and the gruesome connotations that its name once implied are fast disappearing. No longer is it believed to be a wilderness of such complete desolation that no person or thing could live there. A winter playground flourishes where no one a few years ago ever thought of playing, or of working, if that could possibly be avoided.

It now appears that there have always been a good many forms of animal life in Death Valley. The University of California, lists 26 distinct species of mamalian life to be found there, ranging from harvest mice to coyotes. One of the strangest facts is this: even in this driest of dry deserts, few mammals seem to have any need for free water. Wash should flow under protecting vegetation, for most of the birds in the valley are loath to bathe or drink in the open because of fear of foes from the sky or elsewhere.

Because many bird and mamal species are dependent upon the messo much truth. Mr. Coolidge might have carried home this report from any church in Washington, regardless of its connection.

In other words, the churches hardly differ at all in their attitude toward what is popularly considered their second major function, the maintaining and raising of the nucleus for unity of which the most fill be made at Greenbelt. A Methodist and a Baptist may differ about the best way to get to heaven. They can hardly be said to differ about the best way to live on earth. This is as it should be.

The Washington Federation of Churches, it should be emphasized, is not engaged on any church unity crusade. It is made up of congregations of widely divergent beliefs. They, themselves, are remaining steadfast in those beliefs. But they are striving to meet a local situation in what seems to them a common sense way.

quite growth for their existence, the mesquite should be preserved, and not used as fuel. Watering places should be provided for the picturesque mountain sheep so that tourists may see these wild desert bighorns.

In line with such suggestions as these are the activities, in the San Bernardino National Forest, of the United States Forest Service, which is providing ingenious "water hole" for quail. This beautiful bird is by far the most important upland bird in California. In the southern part of the state, where the Desert or Gambel quail and the Valley quail are the two principal species, fledglings sometimes suffer from lack of water.

For this reason, the Forest Service has established in appropriate positions fenced-in water holes where they will do the most good. Fifty-gallon galvanized drums have been installed at strategic points in the waterless ranges, and connected by pipe to small watering troughs. Each drumful of water lasts about four months, when the drums are refilled by a regular patrol of a water truck.

The troughs are made coyote-proof; a fence excludes cattle, sheep or other animals and is so built that birds are prevented from flying into the wire. The brush is cleared within a ten-foot radius of the trough to protect the drinking quail from unexpected attack by lurking bobcats. With this aid the hardy little game birds are easily holding their own.

PRESIDENT'S PEN TO PROFIT U. S.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt has proven himself a great conservator of everything that tends to uphold progress not only for today but for all time to come.

In his spare moments our leader writes newspaper and magazine articles, the net profits from which he intends to use in starting a "national trust" or public endowment to establish a repository for the semi-official papers of American statesmen, it was recently learned. This fund will be devoted to a useful public purpose under Government direction. That purpose, in part at least, is now disclosed to be a permanent system for caring for just such papers as have been examined by the President and Justice Samuel I. Rosenman in preparing the forthcoming publications.

In the weeks preceding a President's departure from the White House, his staff would be busy crating up vast quantities of material. Under all past interpretations, this material was interpreted to be the private property of the retiring President, and ultimately of his heirs.

Yet, it is obvious, the material is also of great interest to the Nation; it is almost possible to say that the Nation has a property right in it too. Recognizing this situation, President Roosevelt evidently wishes to provide a means by which the Nation's share in such documentation is secured.

But how this result will be attained has not yet been disclosed. If Mr. Roosevelt himself intends to work on his own papers in his retirement—as has been suggested by intimates—then he will evidently continue to subscribe to the theory that the papers are primarily personal property. In that case, future heirs of other Presidents may take the same view, and it is hard to see exactly what change the President's project for a repository will make in the situation.

At present, these semi-official or private papers are acquired by the Library of Congress as rapidly as possible.

However, recognition of the right of private property in these papers has produced numerous difficulties in the past, and may have polluted some of the streams of history. Each President somewhat naturally wants his material to be worked over by sympathetic hands. But this results in ex parte writing of history.

Examples are abundant. Of course, the present editing of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Papers is in partisan hands. The Hoover Papers are still in private hands. Mrs. Warren G. Harding destroyed many of her husband's papers, for personal reasons and without regard for their possible historical value. The Wilson Papers are still in the hands of a literary executor, and are "tightly held."

And so it goes. Presumably to minimize this partisan treatment of historical sources, Mr. Roosevelt intends to devote the profits from his writing. Whether his solution—supervi-

TIDE DEPOSITS STORM DEBRIS ON L. A. BEACH

Storm debris littered beaches for miles along the coast of southern California following one of the worst storms in the vicinity's history. Raging flood waters carried houses and almost everything in their path into the sea and when the tide came in the debris was dumped on the beach. Photo shows a section of the Long Beach strand with an amusement center in the background. Damage to city structures, bridge and streets in Los Angeles alone was estimated at $3,000,000 by City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich.

TROOP NO. 141 and CUB PACK NO. 141

Meets Thursdays 7 to 9 p. m. at Nazarene Church, Vista and Santa Barbara

(Scout Angelo Ditty, Troop Rep.)

Last week's meeting was a very interesting one from many angles. Our Scoutmaster, Mr. John R. Young, had planned a signal treasure hike which had a bag of oranges as the prize for each patrol that finished properly. It was a great game while it lasted, even if it did show up some faulty signaling of a few Scouts. It did a lot to remind us that a Scout should always "Be Prepared."

Mr. Straughan, chairman of the Festival of Youth committee, spoke briefly on what was expected of our troop regarding the festival, and assigned Scouts to zones for delivering hand bills to advertise the affair.

Some real pep singing was put over with "The Purple and the Gold," troop song, receiving the most attention. It was decided to work up a chorus and have an electric transcription made of that song, to be used when we have colds or are just too bashful to open our mouths.

Ten minutes of signal practice was used to advantage and we intend to develop this part of our program until perfection is reached. Both dot and dash and semaphore will be used.

The Indian patrol meeting sort of fluked out this week. Only Allen Rigler, assistant patrol leader, and Buddy Prziborowski were present.

The Waterdog patrol had a little better luck. All members were present but two, and, as one of them was to be initiated, a committee was sent to fetch him. Aside from giving him the "works" we had some interesting signal practice and planned some more about our part in the coming Festival of Youth.

Our troop plans to have a candy sale up in front of Warshawski's store next Saturday. We invite all of our sweet toothed friends to come and buy some of the delicious stuff.

The regular monthly Cub Pack meeting will be held on Friday, March 11, from 7 to 9 p. m. All mothers and fathers of the Cubs are invited to come with their boys. A Boy Scout, Kenneth Claussen, formerly a Lion Cub in our pack, is to

GEARY THEATER TO STAGE NEW COMEDY MONDAY

Story Concerns Predicament Of Collaborators While Secluded In Maine Woods

Comedy seems to be the current theme in theatrical offerings this season. Arthur J. Beckhard, the well known producer, is bringing his latest production, "Rhyme Without Reason," to San Francisco and the Geary Theater for two weeks only, starting Monday night, March 14.

In this play, Mr. Beckhard promises that there will be no vague problems to bore or baffle the audiences and no important message to pore over, but it is being presented for laughing purposes only with plenty of gay repartee and comical situations.

The story of "Rhyme Without Reason" concerns the efforts of a playwright and his feminine collaborator trying to write a third act while in the seclusion of a home in the Maine woods. It offers ample opportunity for the fine cast of players, which includes John Eldredge, Leona Maricle, Kay Linaker, Esther Dale, Gil Patric and Clarence Derwent, to display their talents.

"Rhyme Without Reason" is the effort of Edmund North and James Gow, who have both stage and screen success to their credit, including "One Night of Love," which created quite a furore in screen circles.

Arcaro was arrested the next day by San Francisco police. He refused to talk about his actions to the San Francisco officers and was brought to the San Mateo County jail in Redwood City for questioning.

Better Light
HELPS KEEP EYES RIGHT!

PEOPLE say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better... And they are right... Good lighting brings out the beauty of the home furnishings... It aids personal beauty, too.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively. A Home Lighting Recommendation chart made out for your home will fit lighting to serve the exact seeing-needs in your home. This is a free service and there is no obligation.
